Read Verse 15

"If I find in myself a desire which no experience in this world can satisfy, the most probable explanation is that I was made for another world. If none of my earthly pleasures satisfy it, that does not prove that the universe is a fraud. Probably earthly pleasures were never meant to satisfy it, but only to arouse it, to suggest the real thing. ... I must keep alive in myself the desire for my true country, which I shall not find till after death; I must never let it get snowed under or turned aside; I must make it the main object of life to press on to that other country and help others to do the same." —C.S. Lewis

Matthew 5:6, 10-12

"And in this new creation God will then establish His kingdom. For Christ has completed the work that was given Him as Mediator to do; He has reigned so long as King that He has put all His enemies under His feet and has raised to life all those whom the Father has given Him. True, even after that, He will in eternity remain the head of the church, the One who gives them His glory to behold and who fills them with His fullness.” —Henry Bavinck
